Spirit—attending each athletic event, yelling, giving support to your class. These are common concepts of the word spirit. Lord Chesterfield, however, had a different concept. He said, "An able man shows his spirit by gentle words and resolute actions; he is neither hot nor timid."

It is to the love of our whole school, not one phase; quiet admiration as well as excited cheering; and good will to all students, faculty and administration members, that we dedicate THE 1969 MAPLE LEAVES.

Broadway M-RH

Exchange Club presents old melodrama.

M.C.'s Luther Forrest and Randy Klein.

Chorus line gives its regards to Broadway.

Pearlie Hopson entertains with song.

M.C.'s and friend.

This year the Foreign Exchange Club sponsored the Talent Show for the benefit of an exchange student, on the night of February 27.

The show, a big success, featured music, dancing, comedy, and drama. The faculty and parents also got into the act with a rendition of "Kids" by seven women teachers, and a barbershop quartet composed of two men teachers and two parents. An added attraction was Jean Chard and his illustrious Dance Band, who performed with flourishes of Dixieland and Satchmo Attyberry.

Why can't M-RH students be more like our teachers?

"Button up your overcoat . . ."

Varsity Coaches Taylor, Seng and Rohlfing, watch the Devils in action.

Although the '68 team started slowly, victories came easier as the season progressed and the Devils ended the season with a 3—4—1 record and second place in their conference.

Even more important than the scores and statistics were the work, spirit, and unity of the men on the field. Ten members of the team were selected for the Little 6 All-Conference Team and two were chosen for the All-District Team. Mike Weaver and Reginald Finney received All-District recognition. Those chosen to the All-Conference Team were Gayle Miller, Jim Brown, Woody Johnson, John Bringewatt, and John Mitchell.

The Devils proved to be both good sports and faithful workers.

Freshmen listen intently to their coach's advice.

Although the freshman and junior varsity seasons were not the best in the history of the teams, they were rewarding. The teams learned their craft well and will be good prospects for future varsity teams.

The 1969 Maple Leafs played to an enthusiastic crowd throughout the 1968-69 season. Under the leadership of Coach Howdy Sanders, the Leafs dribbled their way to a good season.

All the team members pulled together and played with skill and sportsmanship alike. They had their ups and downs and wins and losses, but the spirit of the blue and white crusaders never failed nor did the support of the student body.

Randy Coleman manages to control the tip in the exciting game against Kirkwood.

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team, under the direction of George Arft, again demonstrated that they are capable of winning. Charles Aitch and Dave Collins proved that they are able to score under pressure while also playing good defense. Ray Trout, Jim Evans, Joe Rideout and Larry Todd rounded out the rest of the starting players.

Under the direction of Coach Andy Hubbard, the freshmen Leafs showed some signs of promise. Again height was important in some of the losses the little Leafs had. Mike Fuhrmann showed good basketball leadership while Bob Raish was able to get important rebounds throughout the season.

Freshman ROW 1—left to right—Rivers, Beck, Raish, Tipton, Goggins, Fuhrmann, Jones, Gallina. ROW 2—Bert, Balse, Amos, Arnett, Straughn, Grommet, Hardin, Robideau, Shockey, Mr. Hubbard.

The varsity wrestling season this year was the most successful and rewarding of any season since 1960. The team began the year by winning seven straight meets and proceeded to finish the year in like style.

Under the leadership of Coach Charles Seng, the matmen used both skill and quick reflexes in pinning their opponents.

The Junior Varsity team also did exceptionally well. They proved to be willing learners and should be well deserving successors to this year's fine example.

Grapplers display their awards after taking first place in the Jennings Quad.

The 'Maplewood Strangler' is on the prowl.

Are you sure you're doing the right thing?

Ninety-five pounds of sheer terror strikes again.

Devils in Action

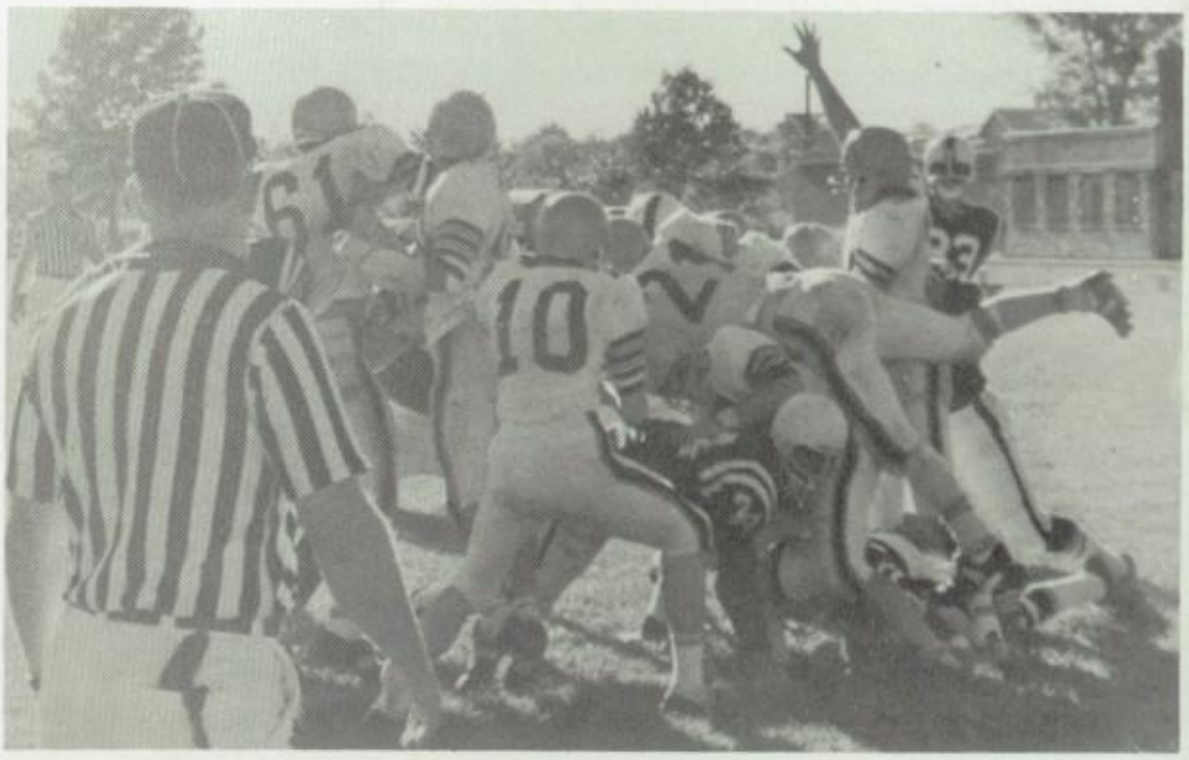
Another opponent bites the dust.

Devils face tough situation.



Players scramble for the ball.

"Success is the reward of toil."
Sophocles

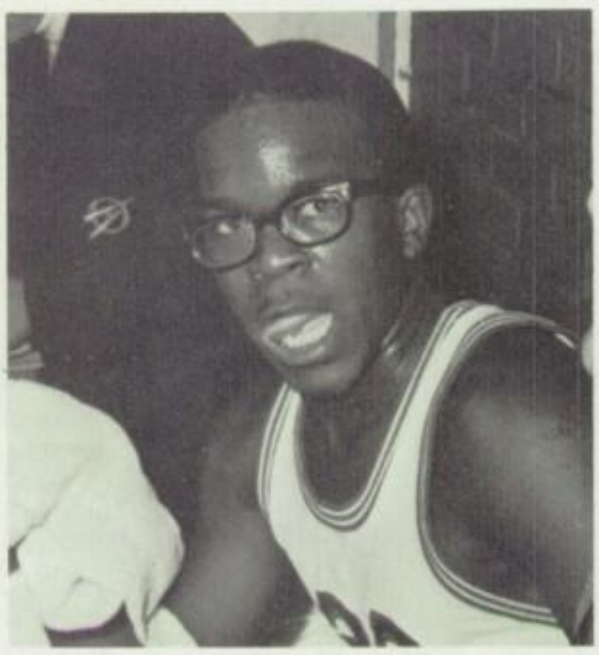
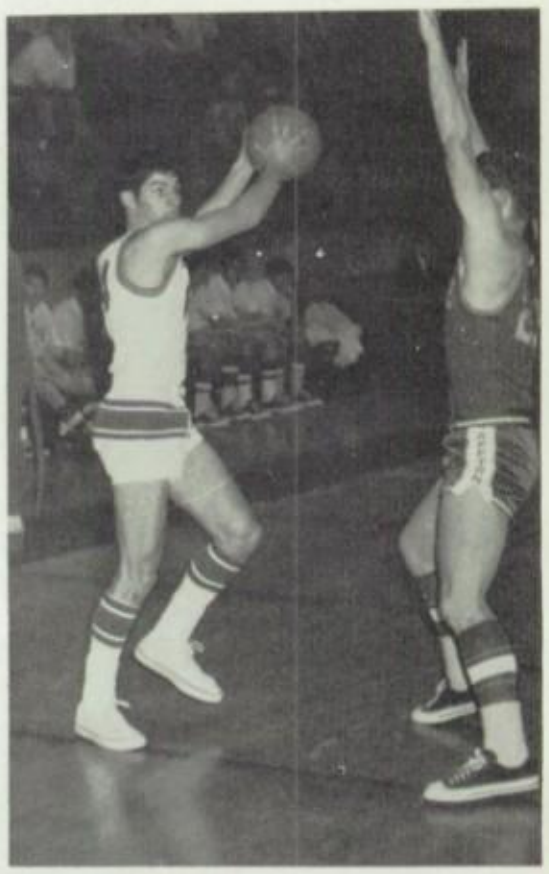
Tweet! And the start of another victory.



ECCH! 'Salt tablets!



C'mon, Affton! Wait 'til warmups are over!

Bounding Brady draws a bead on two points.

Let's go, men! We owe them six fouls!

That's it! Now swing your hips and raise your arms.

Some expert ball control displayed by number 34.

Marvelous Matmen

McVicker and adversary fight tooth and nail to the finish.

The Dance Band is a group of musicians who may be seen staggering into the music room at 7:30 a.m. every Tuesday and Thursday. Under the direction of Mr. Jean Chard the band participates in a variety of activities. The music heard before each assembly, in the halls the day of a game, and at the basketball games, is furnished for us by these musicians. Some of their annual activities include a Christmas program at the State Hospital, the talent shows, and Forum meetings.

Without the assistance of the elusive winds, the orchestra spent this year in seclusion, studying the finer techniques of stringed instruments. Under the able direction of Mr. John Dolan, a musician in his own right, they became familiar with the more sophisticated forms of music.

1968-69 Sports

In an effort to recognize and bring to the public eye those students who have made outstanding achievements in M-RH's wonderful world of sports, we, the annual staff, have decided to devote these pages to identifying their honors and those who have received them.

Although the football season as a whole was not very successful, individual members of the team received honors for their achievements.

Players selected to be on the Little Six All-Conference Team on defense were Reggie Finney, offensive tackle, first string; Mike Weaver, defensive safety, first string; John Bringewatt, corner back, second string; John Mitchell, inside linebacker, second string. Those chosen for the offensive team include; John Mitchell, fullback; Jimmy Brown, halfback; Gayle Miller, center; Woody Johnson, guard; and John Bringewatt, halfback.

Two team members were designated to be on the All-District Team. Mike Weaver made the first string and Reggie Finney made the second.

Coach George Arft gives his team final advice before play begins.

1968-1969 Little Six Conference Champions.

With a season record of 15—4 and only one conference loss, the J.V. basketball team had the most successful season in the history of M-RH.

Under the direction of Mr. George Arft, the team won their conference title and placed second in the conference tournament.

Achievements

The most successful sports team of the year was the wrestling team with an 11—2 record and a sixth place in state competition. The grapplers, led by co-captains Reggie Willis, 35—2—1, and King Parsons, 37—0, were rated 11 in the St. Louis area at the beginning of the year.

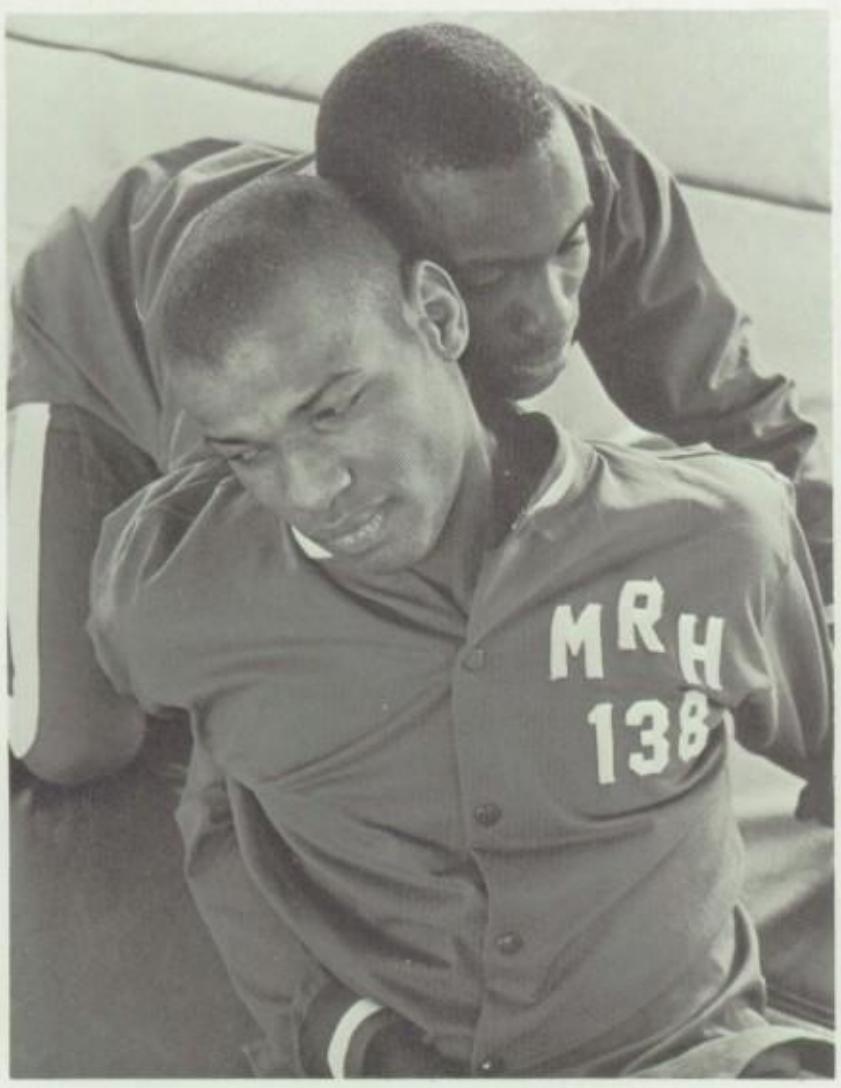
In tournament play after the close of the regular season the team also proved its worth. In the district meet ten out of twelve of the grapplers succeeded in making their way to the regional tournament. Lucious Toney (95), Reggie Willis (120), King Parsons (138), Bob McVicker (127) and Jerry Harmon (145) won first places; Alex Horvat (112), Greg Sanders (heavyweight), Ted Papanicolaou (180), Ron Willis (103), and Jimmy Nalls (133) took second places; and Al Killion (154) received a third. In team competition the grapplers came in first.

Those wrestlers who won a first or second in district matches went to the regional meet. In this competition King Parsons and Bob McVicker attained first places and Reggie Willis won a second. The rest of the team was eliminated, but it received a third place in overall competition.

Of the three matmen who went to state, King Parsons won a first place, Bob McVicker received second, and Reggie Willis came in third in each his respective weight class.

Grapplers display their district and regional awards and trophies.

Willis proudly displays the County League Tournament trophy, as Alex Horvat indicates the victory.



Parsons and Willis warm-up before going into state competition.

McVicker is declared winner in his first state competition match.
